1954 OLDSMOBILE SUPER "88" FOUR-DOOR SEDAN

Road-hugging beauty and a smooth ride are characteristic of this lowest of Oldsmobiles, the 1954 model, with road height of 60.5 inches as exemplified in this Super "88" four-door sedan. The custom-styled panoramic windshield greatly increases forward vision and helps accent the low contour hood and rear deck. The wraparound windshield gracefully merges with the new keystone-shaped wind vent. The cowl-wide ventilator with stainless steel intake grille improves the heating and fresh air ventilation system, which is incorporated in a compact unit at the rear of the engine compartment. Interior appointments are luxurious, with three upholstery color choices in two types of nylon cloth. Powering the Super "88" is a more powerful 185 h.p. "Rocket" engine with 8.25 to 1 compression ratio. Safety power steering, power brakes, Hydra-Matic Drive, Autronic Eye, two-tone paint, rear wheel fender panels and white wall tires are optional extras.

Mayor Officially Opens Curling Rink

LAC LA BICHE — On Thursday, Dec. 14, the Lac la Biche Curling Rink was officially opened. A large number of citizens braved the 40 below zero temperatures to see Mayor Charles Lebas throw the first rock which broke the ribbon.

Dr. A. Brinsmead is president. Jack Williams is the secretary, with other members on the committee being J. A. Stewart, F. W. McMillan and Mr. Martin.

The ice was in excellent condition for the opening draw on the two-sheet rink. Despite the fact that the majority of the curlers are curling for the first time, the game was not lacking in enthusiasm and most of the games played thus far have been close and interesting. The spacious club room has been crowded to capacity with interested spectators.

Each of the 22 teams will play two games a week until the round-robin series is completed in about nine weeks. At the completion of regular league play a bonspiel is planned.

Sixteen Special Meetings Called To Discuss Coyote Control In Municipality

MEANOOK — Hans Armfelt, Field Supervisor of the Municipal District of Athabasca Agricultural Service Board, has announced 16 meetings to be called throughout the district. Mr. Armfelt says that these meetings, sponsored by the District Agriculturist in co-operation with the Agricultural Service Board and the Municipal Council, will deal primarily with intensification of the present coyote control program.

Health Unit Members Attend Council Meeting

LAC LA BICHE — Several members of the Athabasca Health Unit attended the last council meeting, giving a comprehensive report on all phases of the plan. Those present were the secretary, the district nurse, the member of the town of Athabasca and the councillor from the M.D. of Athabasca. Although the matter was discussed at great length, action by the town council was deferred until further study.

Wolstenholme Family Has Fine Record Of Service In Armed Services

By T. W. PUE

Lac la Biche is a long way from the countries of tropical climate in Southern Asia and Africa but lives here a man with one of the widest and most notable records of war service in these hot countries.

Jack Wolstenholme, jeweller and watch-maker, well known to district residents, has seen service with the British armed forces in India, Egypt, China and in various other parts of the world. That was prior to the Second World War. When war came in 1939, Mr. Wolstenholme very shortly joined up again—this time in the Royal Canadian Air Force. He went overseas in 1943 and saw service in England and in Europe. Attached to the Service Police he served a total of 4½ years and was wounded in Holland in 1944. Now Mr. Wolstenholme is pleased to see his sons and daughter "join up" in defence of Canada. Jack, Jr., spent a month's leave with his parents after returning from Trenton, Ont., and Camp Borden where he took a course as radar technician. He had joined up in January, 1953. Now he is posted to Chatham, N.B., where he will learn to do work on jet fighter planes.

Jack is only 20 years of age, but already he is getting a life-time education while travelling about Canada with the RCAF.

Now Jack's twin sister, Connie is joining the Women's Division of the Air Force. For a while after the war the Women's Division was discontinued but was reinstituted after the Korean outbreak and Miss Wolstenholme is taking her opportunity to train also with the RCAF.

Every farmer is urged to attend one of these meetings. It is estimated that to date 2,000 coyotes have been killed since the fall of 1952, besides those killed by rifle.

There are 266 farmers using coyote getters (cyanide guns) or strychnine pellets, which means that approximately 1000 farmers are apparently not participating in the coyote control program, and with these meetings as a medium it is hoped to enlist at least another 250 in this campaign.

GARNET WHEAT

Another subject very vital to the farmers especially in the eastern part of the municipality is the suggestion that Garnet wheat be immediately discarded by the farmers of this MD. The Canadian Wheat Board has absolutely no market for Garnet wheat and one point in this MD has in stock over 300,000 bus. Garnet at this time.

Two other timely subjects up for discussion are the following questions posed by the Field Supervisor: Why has the number of select hogs decreased by one-third in the last 10 years? Should we licence all bulls in this MD?

All in all, these special meetings present every farmer with an excellent opportunity to give and gain knowledge at these important meetings.

Elsewhere in this and succeeding issues of the municipal paper a notice giving dates, times and places of these meetings is being published. In addition, ratepayers are asked not to forget the annual meeting to be held Saturday, February 20, at the Meanook Hall.

The Italian crisis is held to be a peril to defence strategies.

Should Modern Quarrels Be Settled By Resort To Physical Violence?

By HENRY T. THOMPSON

LAC LA BICHE—The thin veneer that usually coats the conduct of civilized people blew sky high the other night, landing one in the hospital and a few others slightly discolored.

An insight into the rawer elements of early western history as portrayed on screen and which most of us enjoy, was brought out in actual reality in this fracas of recent date. I do not agree that the horror and fright of the audience was completely justified.

Stripped and properly dressed in boxing trunks, etc., provided with rules and regulations according to "Hoyle", this fight, which lasted a mere three minutes, would have caused the fans to howl for more or demanded their money back. In the ring it would have been forgotten in a matter of hours. Now the impending forces of law and order, which always follow fistic arguments of this nature, the district and surrounding areas are marshalling eye witness accounts, that would confuse even the best Pinkerton detective available.

The choice of the school as a battling ground was admittedly bad business. The timing most deplorable, a rough and a cruel introduction for a blushing bride in her first visit to our otherwise splendid farm community. For this latter phase we express profound regret.

In the old days Lac la Biche area did have some good fistic artists. Bare hands or gloved. Victor or vanquished never called in the law; honor forbade. Public opinion guaranteed fair play and an even contest as to age and size. The fight over, the crowd invariably expected the disputants to shake hands. In the old open bar days, the winner bought a round of drinks. The loser was a poor sport who did not participate in this last important rite.

My sympathies are all for the chap in the hospital, as on two separate occasions similar experiences brought me the same result. My first four days in the Vilna hospital with a couple of broken ribs was not enough but a repeat performance.

Fire Damages Home Of Baxter Tangen

LAC LA BICHE — The Lac la Biche fire brigade was called out Tuesday night to fight a fire at the home of Baxter Tangen, a retired man living alone in the house.

Despite freezing temperatures and chilly north winds, the fire department was at the scene in a matter of minutes after the alarm was turned in. The house was filled with smoke and firemen were unable to enter for quite some time. The alarm was turned in at 8:00 p.m. and the all clear was sounded at 9:30 p.m. The fire started from a pile of ashes that were left on the floor to cool.

Mr. Tangen was away from home at the time and only discovered the fire after the firemen were already quelling the blaze. Damage was mainly confined to smoke and water but Mr. Tangen lost some personal effects.

Mr. Tangen arrived in Lac la Biche less than two years ago, coming here from Coronation. This was Baxter Tangen's second misfortune within a matter of months. While fishing this summer he lost a seventy-five dollar watch.

Cold Weather No Bother To Hardy Residents

LAC LA BICHE — Last week Lac la Biche had the dubious honor of being the coldest spot in the province with a frigid 52 degrees below zero. The people did not seem to mind it very much, and judging from the number of cats and people on the sidewalks and streets one would never know that the temperature was in the forties or fifties. Jack Frost did manage to put one classroom out of operation for two days but that was due to the fact that the radiators were not working properly. One bird, the stork, seems to be enjoying the cold weather very much and has been keeping himself rather busy. Proud fathers can be seen almost anywhere smoking and handing out cigars. In spite of the cold weather, there has not been a fire alarm turned in within the last two weeks.

Lac la Biche

The Southwick family arrived here from Leduc to take up residence in the district. Mrs. Southwick has three boys who are presently attending the Dr. Swift School. Mr. Southwick served in World War II and was killed in action in the Italian campaign.

The High School Students' Union has formed eight rinks in the round-robin tournament. The students curl Monday, Wednesday and Friday with a few scratch games on Saturday.

Rev. Father McGrane, who has been well-known for his activities with the Exeter Sea Cadets, is at the Pacific Coast on his annual stint with the navy. He will return shortly and the sea cadets are awaiting his return.

Robert Wolstenholme is home again after undergoing an operation in Lac la Biche Hospital.

Kenny Proctor was home visiting his parents.

New Rules For District Hotels

EDMONTON (BUP) — Alberta Liquor Control Board Chairman A. J. Mason announced new regulations restricting the sale of beer for off-premises consumption within a 25-mile radius of Edmonton and Calgary.

Under the new ruling, hotels within the area will not be permitted to sell beer for off-premises consumption after 8 p.m. Previously, the hotels could sell beer for such purposes until 10:30 p.m.

The major reason for the ruling, Mason said, was an effort to cut down on the number of highway accidents resulting from intoxication.

Mixed drinking points within the Edmonton district which will be affected include Spruce Grove, Stony Plain St. Albert, Morinville, Fort Saskatchewan, and Leduc.

$50,000 Blaze Quelled By Fire Department

BOYLE — Quick action of the Boyle Fire Dept. under T. Zilinski, fire chief, brought raging flames under control in half an hour.

The building owned by Mr. Delevee was in grave danger of destruction, when flames were first noted, sighted by Mr. Norlin. The siren was blown, and in a matter of minutes the truck was in action. Damages were restricted to the boiler room and some goods upstairs were touched by the fire. An estimate of damages have not yet been made.

Legislature's New Woman Member Follows Notable Alberta Group

By British United Press

When the Alberta Legislature convenes in Edmonton Feb. 18, an attractive, dark-haired 53-year-old grandmother will become the third feminine member of the assembly.

Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson, a one-time railway telegrapher who followed in the footsteps of her late husband by winning the riding of Medicine Hat for the Social Credit party, has found a challenging new career in her active life.

A newcomer to politics, Mrs. Robinson was mourning her husband's sudden death when she was asked to contest the seat he had held since 1935. Her husband, the late Doctor J. L. Robinson, had been a pioneer in the Social Credit movement and was Minister of Industries and Labor in the Alberta Cabinet.

Mrs. Robinson won the nomination over R. H. Kent, who became her business agent for the pre-Christmas by-election campaign. Mrs. Robinson won hands down, defeating her only opponent, CCF'er E. W. Horne, by a four-to-one margin.

"I was proud and thrilled to follow in the footsteps of my husband," Mrs. Robinson says. "I am looking forward to my first session, although I'll be doing more listening than talking."

Mrs. Robinson is sure to get lots of good advice, however, from the two veteran women legislators of the house, Mrs. C. R. Wood of Stony Plain and Mrs. Rose Wilkinson of Calgary. Mrs. Wood has sat in the house since 1940, and Mrs. Wilkinson since 1944. Both have made their views felt in legislative debates.

Alberta has a remarkable history in the development of women's rights . . . in fact, the key issue of women's voting rights was resolved by a group of Alberta women.

Back in 1916 Alberta became the first province to grant the franchise to women. At the same time, Emily Murphy was appointed magistrate in the newly-formed Edmonton women's court, when she began a battle to prove that women are "persons" under the British North America Act.

Mrs. Murphy, along with Mrs.

the government of Premier H. Greenfield.

Mrs. Robinson, as she takes her seat in the assembly hall of the legislative buildings in Edmonton, also may reflect that she is the second Alberta woman to succeed her husband in his parliamentary seat. Mrs. Cora Casselman, a Liberal, won the Edmonton-East federal riding in a by-election in 1941 following the death of her husband, F. C. Casselman. She held the seat until the 1945 general election.

Grain Sales Show Big Decline At Start Of New Crop Year

EDMONTON (BUP)—Alberta farmers marketed 13.79 per cent less wheat in the first four months of the new crop year than they did in 1952, the Department of Industries and Labor reported.

The department's monthly summary of general statistics showed that 47,214,000 bushels of wheat were marketed up to Dec. 2, reflecting the general downward trend in prairie wheat sales.

Other grains were off 30.3 per cent, the department said. Farmers marketed 28,144,000 bushels of oats, barley, rye and flaxseed in the first four months.

Most other business trends in the province were up, and the oil industry led the list by increasing its production 29.34 per cent in the first 10 months of 1953.

Oil production totalled 62,039,975 barrels, with a market value of $153,837,198. The value of sales increased 34.96 per cent. Natural gas production reached 85,118,490 cubic feet, for an increase of 17.74 per cent. Refinery production totalled 63,741,839 barrels in October.

The department said total retail trade in Alberta in the first 10 months of 1953 was valued at $802,435,000, for an increase of 4.83 per cent over the previous year.

There were a total of 13,461 building permits issued in the seven cities at a value of $110,856,194. That was a 7.44 per cent increase in the number of permits and a 34.71 per cent boost in value.

There were a total of 1,160,652 visitors to Alberta's four national parks in the first 11 months of 1953, for a 14.64 per cent increase over 1952.

Britain And The Wheat Agreement

Considerable controversy is continuing with some persons in Britain and Canada, about whether Britain and Canada, respectively, have gained or lost because Britain did not join the International Wheat Agreement. The fact is that it does not make much, if any difference, for neither maximum nor minimum prices of the Wheat Agreement are now in effect. Britain will purchase the wheat she needs at the cheapest price she can because she simply has to in order to survive. On the other hand British buyers are not, and never have been, interested in forcing prices down below their proper market level. What Britain is seeking are prices that accord with the conditions of international supply and demand.

No matter what happens Britain will purchase a great deal of her requirements from Canada. We need, then, have no fear about losing the British wheat market as long as we are reasonable in our dealings with Britain, and continue to keep our prices in line with the prices offered by other exporters. The Wheat Board, the Government, the Grain Trade (both co-operative and private) and the members of the Grain Exchange are all helping to do their best to sell our grains for the highest possible prices obtainable.

Next - Colour TV

Canadian Television is so far behind the times that before ordinary television transmission is an accomplished fact in Alberta it will be out of date.

In the United States the committee which represents the television industry has informed Federal Communications Commission that its new color television transmitting system is ready for tests. The tests, which will be held this month, may be in progress or completed by the time you read this.

The system being tested is an electronic tube system. The color transmissions of this system are receivable on all present-day sets, though they will be reproduced in black and white only unless one's set is adapted for color reception, or one of the newer sets equipped with a color reception device.

The FCC has indicated that if the tests prove satisfactory, it will sanction the beginning of color transmissions. Television manufacturers have estimated it would take them only a few months to put color sets on the market and only recently one manufacturer has surprised some industry spokesmen by predicting that color TV sets would sell for prices as low as between $300 and $400 in the near future. Earlier estimates had placed the cost nearly $800.

It may take some time for television stations to install color transmissions equipment and the cost might delay many from doing so in the immediate future. Nevertheless, it appears that color television is just around the corner.

As our cartoon illustrates, (with a price tag of $995.98 instead of the predicted $400) new TV Color sets will render the millions of old-style black-and-white sets obsolete.

We suggest that all these out-of-date sets be sent here to Alberta. If the Eastern States gets Color TV next year it will likely be 1964 before we get it in Canada and not knowing how far behind the times we really are, will make good use of them.

Note and Comment

In Egypt the final official estimate of the current wheat crop is forecast at 56,840,000 bushels compared with 40,000,000 bushels harvested last year. Barley, however, is down from last year's crop with a decrease of nearly 7,000,000 bushels. Even with this larger wheat crop wheat will still have to be imported for domestic use.

The Big Come-Back

The British are doing it!

Since the war, in spite of shortages of food, American dollars and pretty well everything else the British people have made phenomenal recovery.

Not the least of their draw-backs have been storms, floods, industrial troubles and at times political instability. The Laborites have had their turn at introducing socialistic measures and the Conservatives are now trying their best to swing back into free capitalism.

Barring another world war, the British are making a come-back that will put the "tight little isle" into a foremost position of world trade.

Britain has one principal rival in the European come-back field. Who is it? You guessed it! Germany.

That is West Germany, in the Western occupied areas. East of the Iron Curtain we won't know too much about how well our former enemies are getting along. But all indications are that Western Germany is by free enterprise and its industrious citizens making spectacular economic gains.

Post Office Employees To Get 5-Day Week

During 1953 a large number of industries have given their employees a 5-day week with the same take-home pay, but economists have shown that, working only five days a week, employees need more money than they did when they were working six days a week. There is an extra day for shopping, taking drives into the country, going to a picture show or shooting a few games of pool.

Many Civil Servants have also been granted the 5-day week and the latest who will enjoy this privilege are the Post Office employees. We have no doubt that the Post Office employees work as hard, or harder, than the average Civil Servant and are as entitled to the 5-day week as anyone, but the point that is not generally realized by the public is that we are the ones who pay the shot for these 5-day weeks. This is brought home in the case of the Post Office. A large number of new employees must be taken on and in order to pay the additional cost, postage rates have gone up. We will pay 5 cents postage instead of 4 cents on a letter and the other rates are up in proportion. Even this raise, according to the Post Office officials will not pay the entire extra cost. It is a well proven fact that when hours are shortened below a certain point (and it appears that we have reached that point) service and production costs go up, so in the final analysis it is the people and the people only who pay.

Hurt Feelings

We know of no wider suffering than that caused by one's feelings being hurt. People smart under the words, deeds, and actions of others. So much of this unhappiness is due to ourselves. We are watching for some occasion to flee into ourselves and pout in the chamber with the closed closet door, instead of to pray. We wear our feelings on our sleeves, or stick them out so they can be hurt, so we can feel sorry for ourselves.

There is a place where we can hide our feelings so they won't receive blows. That place is in Christ. Having so hidden in Him, we will become concerned with the hurts in others. How the world needs those unto whom they can go and have them share their burdens. How often we hear the cry of a soul seeking comfort from another, only to have recited unto him a greater woe from the one from whom strength was sought. Those trusting Christ are able to increase faith, hope and confidence in others.

We have much effort expended to feed the hungry, clothe the naked, visit the sick but so little is done to establish peace of mind in the individual. One can be as hurt and sad in a castle, as in a hovel. Instead of getting hurt over the erratic actions of others, we should quietly pray for them, for many of them are frustrated, and are looking for a hurt to weep over.

ROBERT OWEN APPEAL

Robert Owen was born in Newtown, Montgomeryshire, in May, 1771. Although he left his native town at the age of 15, it was to this small manufacturing town on the Upper Severn that he returned. Here, in 1858, he died and was buried in the Churchyard of St. Mary's.

As a young man rising rapidly to a position of wealth and power, Robert Owen has been called "a typical product of a restless age." He was much more—for he, almost alone, refused to accept the factory conditions of his time, developing revolutionary systems of management and introducing ideas of which the full impact still remains to be felt in the world today.

The movement to improve factory conditions, education, and child welfare, the Trade Unions, the Co-operative Movement, each in turn received a vital spark from his idealism and unbounded energy. Owenite colonies spread from Britain to North America. Western civilization, in fact, owes much to this pioneer of a fair and peaceable society.

Today, as Robert Owen's centenary approaches, an appeal has been launched to erect a statue to his memory. Supported by the Co-operative Union Ltd., the Newton Committee is asking people all over the world to contribute a sum of £5,000 to provide and maintain a permanent memorial worthy of Robert Owen.

No doubt many of your readers will be glad to know that this great reformer of labour conditions is to be thus honoured and will want to contribute to the fund. Please publish this information in your valuable paper.

LOW KW RATES

Users of electric power outside Edmonton will be interested in announcement by the City Council there that electricity rates will be reduced. All customers operating 230 volt appliances of three kilowatt capacity will get the 1c per kw-hr rate. Power company customers outside the city should ask to get the same low rates, which would be a substantial reduction from the rates we are now paying.

SEEKS CORRESPONDENCE

I am a WW1 American Legion member. I found Alberta on a Canada Road Map and I thought that I would write to you. I would like to hear from a WW1 Veteran from there. We have a fine active town here, population 850, on Lincoln Highway 30, 25 miles to Cedar Rapids with population of 80,000, home of Quaker Oats Company, rich farm section, hog capital of U.S.A., a large stock sales barn with sales twice a week.

Our Legion Post is building a new $65,000 Legion Memorial Building on main corner. Many people donated money and the lot.

Edith B. Helme of our Legion Post, is a disabled WW1 Overseas Nurse, can't walk, likes to get letters from other folks for Pen. Pals.

Leon Ralston, WW2, likes to hear from WW2 Veterans.

Everett Ferguson, WW1, likes to hear from WW1 Veterans.

Rev. Melcher, Methodist Church, Lisbon, Iowa, U.S.A., likes to hear from ministers.

I will be very thankful to you if you will kindly publish this letter.

LOUIS NICKLES.

Mechanicsville, Iowa, U.S.A.

2nd BRIGADER WONDERS

I wonder if we got such a lousy reputation in Germany, if anyone knows why? Well, you should see all the "Dear John" letters we got from Canada while in Europe. Do our faithless girl friends want us to bring home foreign brides? One out of every four got turned down by his Canadian girl friend while we were away, so you can't blame us for drowning our sorrows in good times in Germany.

MICHAEL.

SEEK IRISH COUSINS

I am searching for cousins in Alberta and would welcome data from readers of yours who know of the names Minogue, Manogue or Mannix (a variation) and, of course, from those lucky people themselves!

As a matter of fact, I would appreciate hearing from anybody wishing to be in touch with Ireland.

EDWARD MINOGUE.

LETTER TO LOUISA

Parents Who Don't Object To Boy Friend Still Refuse To Allow Dates

Here's an age-old problem that afflicts a good many families and causes a great deal of unhappiness.

Dear Louisa:

I am 16 and in high school. My parents and I can't seem to agree on whether I should be allowed to date. Though by mother let me go out on two dates, both school affairs, she didn't seem to want me to go. I don't know of anything wrong I could have done but she doesn't trust me. Am I right in wanting to date? Both times I have been out my date brought me home at a reasonable hour. My parents have met the boy and have not said they dislike him. I can't understand their attitude. Please tell me what to do.

HOPELESS.

Answer:

I think your parents are more disturbed by the thought and fear that they are soon losing their baby daughter. They don't want to face the facts that you are soon becoming a grown-up person with a right to make your own decisions. Undoubtedly they love you very much and are selfish enough not to want to share your companionship with anyone else.

I know their feeling because I still recall with a pang of loss the first time my eldest daughter announced that her weekly Saturday afternoon date with me was "off" because she had a date with someone else. It was only with two other girl friends — and she was still much younger than you, but I found it hard to reconcile myself to the thought that there were others in this wide, wonderful world who would demand and get my daughter's attention.

The only thing you can do is reason with your parents and ask them to allow you to accept a date with a boy friend, say once a month. At your age you should seek dates not just with one particular boy alone, but with different boys and girls your own age and at different times.

As I say, try and reason with your parents. Point out to them that your date is a good, sensible lad who will respect you and respect their wishes in seeing that you return home at a proper hour. If your mother allows you to go out on another date, have your escort call at the house, greet both your parents, and tell your mother where you're going and when you'll be back, so her mind will be completely at ease. And, of course, be sure you are home again when you say you will be.

If in spite of your reasonable requests and commendable conduct your parents still don't let you out on dates, bide your time. Every so often you can bring the subject up again and eventually they will say "yes."

Parents who don't trust their children are to be pitied for their failure as parents. If they have brought up their children in the right way they should be able to depend upon them to the right thing when they are grown-up.

LOUISA.

A letter from one reader tells of being in love with a man who had paid her attention and expressed his love for her. He was in an accident — and hurt very badly and will now be a partial cripple. Recently he has told her that he doesn't love her any more and she is distressed. She doesn't know whether he means it or not.

Of course this man has had a great shock and all of his plans for the future have been changed. It may be that he doesn't feel that he will be able to support a wife or he may feel that the reason she has stood by him throughout his trouble is because she pities him — and some people cannot bear to be pitied.

On the other hand the man may not have really loved her but enjoyed having her near him and devoted to him where he was helpless. She, of course, is better able to know what he really thinks than someone who hasn't known him.

My advice to her is not to rush things. Try to make him understand that she truly loves him and the desire to be with him is not, because she is sorry for him. Give him time to adjust himself to his condition and if he goes away keep in touch with him with interesting letters.

LOUISA.

Prosperous Year Forecast In 1954

EDMONTON (BUP) — The Alberta Bureau of Statistics has forecast a prosperous year for Alberta business, and said that trade, industry and farming should all prosper with only seasonal fluctuations in business.

The report warned, however, that the time has come for the establishment of more manufacturing plants in Alberta to serve western markets.

The report noted that Alberta's population has passed the million mark and now stands at 1,002,000, for a gain of 210,000 since 1946.

There has been a rapid increase in the establishment of petroleum processing plants in northern Alberta, the report said, and Calgary has now become the battery manufacturing centre of the west.

The bureau said that a definite decision on export of natural gas this year would give further impetus to the exploration and development phases of Alberta's oil and gas industry.

A good year in farming was forecast by the bureau with another big harvest in the fall of 1954. The bureau commented that the province enjoys a healthier economic condition when farm income is spread throughout the year rather than being concentrated in one season.

Should Modern Quarrels Be Settled...

formance some years later with seven days with an infected eye, gave plenty of time to reflect on the wisdom of using better judgment. I decided there and then that discretion was and still is the better part of spurious valor.

I believe in sport and good sportsmanship, and I once sponsored a combined ball game and boxing match in the village of Lac la Biche.

That was the best baseball game ever played on Lac la Biche ball diamond. The outfield led up to the steps of the then open hospital grounds. I call it the best after scouring the south country for a radius of fifty miles for a team good enough to beat the Lac la Biche invincibles, who twice previously had defeated teams I had gathered and considered unbeatable.

I still recall some of the Lac la Biche team names. Buster Lee, a dangerous man at bat, who hit a dandy further afield that day than any ball has ever been hit in the hundreds of games played on that same diamond since. A kid from Ashmoit, whose name I have long forgotten, made a miracle fielder's catch of Buster's terrific drive. With bases loaded everybody romped home. Alas for La Biche, their runners had touched home plate. For once in my life I was so surprised at the kid's amazing catch that I couldn't utter a word.

The Arfinson boys, Barney is still living and working in Lac la Biche; Weber, whose tragic death in the waters of the lake lost to good clean sport one of the finest exponents of true sportsmanship ever my privilege to meet. Michael Maccagno, just a kid with a miracle arm, had professional stamped on his horoscope. Poor chap succumbed to marriage and a tireless business career, while I now hoard my nickels to contribute to his ever-growing business success at the Aurora theatre. (By the way, how about a good baseball picture again?)

Bill Masculuke, a fighter of considerable experience, with amateur ribbons galore, won the fight against Abram Quinne. Both men, I am told, have passed to their final awards. Our collections at the door of the Vesta Hall, though large did, not pay all our expenses. But Bill enjoyed his first trip to Lac la Biche so well that he refused to accept anything but his bare travelling expenses. Left me forty dollars in the red.

Buster Lee's disgust at third base when the kid fielded his great hit, was well worth the money. A bitterly fought game from start to finish, with both sides digging deep in their bag of tricks. Weber's hand shake and the Arfinson boys' when the game was over with our side the winners, was and still is one of my most cherished recollections.

Some fifteen years ago, while attending a wedding at the Rich Lake Hall (now the Rich Lake Co-op store), I was treated to a fine exhibition of the manly art of self-defence by this same Jerry Quinne and a local man from Briereville. A toe to toe slugging match, Jerry acknowledged defeat. His weakness was liquor. A good fighter and a good sport, for he and his opponent, strangers at the time, later became quite good friends. Another fine example of good sportsmanship.

When a big man pushes a little fellow around, or a young husky lad chases his grandfather half across the next block the law should act and fast, but when two men equally matched for size and age decide to save the government valuable time and effort in adjusting a personal difference, the crowd should let them settle their difference without interference. Public opinion can safely be depended on to see that the affair is not carried to dangerous extremes.

Unquestionably the law will take a different view. Perhaps this is best as we as individuals are bound to be prejudiced by our friendships and relationship one side or the other. Perhaps a cleanup might be helpful to the majority of us too old, crippled or feeble to enjoy being dragged into this highly dangerous and doubtful sport.

A few bad big boys should not be allowed to be the cause of depriving the general public from the only building in the district big enough to accommodate the large crowds that gather of an evening for a good social time in their own district.

The young people of the five districts affected should not be compelled to seek entertainment elsewhere, unless they so desire. An order by the School board cancelling dances there would be a serious and deplorable consequence by a very few people which would be suffered by a large majority of responsible and well-behaved citizens.

Plamondon

Mr. and Mrs. Ulric Minard are leaving for Edmonton on business.

Miss Claire Poulin attended school in Plamondon for a couple of days and now she is going back to school in Grassland.

Mr. Robert Lemay is going to Edmonton on business.

Mr. Ulric Menard went and got the nurse for three days. His little boy, two and one-half years old, was quite sick, but is now feeling better.

Miss Jeannette Schaub is now back at her job at Chard, 130 miles north of Plamondon.

There was a wedding mass in Egg Lake Church on January 26 in honor of Miss Jannine Amiot and Andre Torch.

Miss Alvine Schaub is now working at Mr. George Plamondon's place.

Helina

Earl Whelen made a quick trip to Elk Point on Sunday. He took Mr. Farvelton who was very sick to the hospital. The district people wish Mr. Farvelton a speedy recovery.

A spell of very cold weather has just passed by. Temperatures of 58 degrees below zero or more were very popular figures around the district.

A rural electrification meeting was held in the former Helina School on January 12. A very large crowd attended. Everyone seemed very interested in getting the electricity in their homes.

The Yanks are named the top team of the year for fourth time in a row.

The meeting opened in the usual manner. Correspondence read brought up the following discussions and decisions:

In reply to a letter from Miss Joyce McCutcheon, Home Economist, stating that she will be in Lac la Biche on January 25 on other business and would be able to address this group on the subjects, "Streamlining Your Housework" and "Fabrics and Finishes," at that time. A letter of cordial invitation will be forwarded immediately. The meeting will be held in the Dr. Swift School at 8 p.m. on Jan. 25 and it is hoped that as many as possible of the members and their friends will be present.

Celanese Plant Loses By Nose

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. — City council members had a sniffing test Monday night after a civic delegation returned from Edmonton with 12 bottled samples of North Saskatchewan river water.

Cries of "phew, that's the one" rang through the council chamber as aldermen smelled the water in an attempt to determine the origin of the unpalatable taste and odor in this city's drinking water supply, taken from the river.

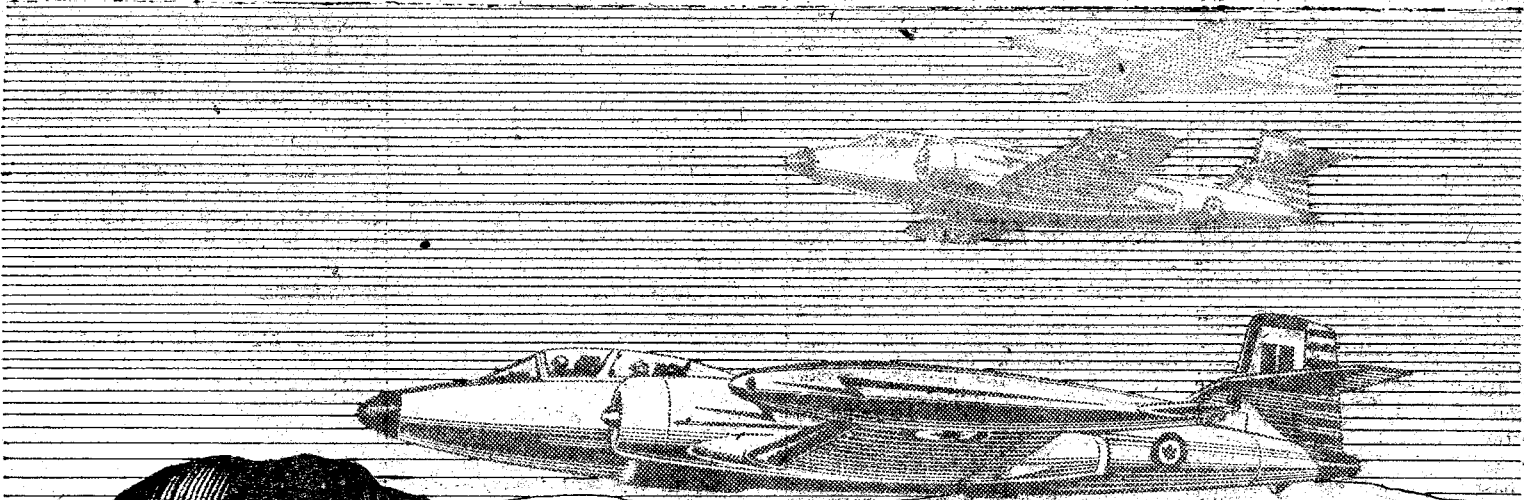

City council tossed the problem back into the lap of its health committee for further study, after aldermen decided almost to a man that the bad taste emanated from one of two pipes pumping wastes from the Canadian Chemical Company's $55,000,000 Edmonton celanese plant.

Education Officials Mum On Plans To Lower Teacher Qualifications

EDMONTON (BUP)—Officials of the Department of Education have declined to comment on persistent rumors that a sixweek "short course" will be set up to train elementary school teachers.

According to the reports, the plan would allow grade 12 graduates to begin teaching after only six weeks at a training institution.

A report of the plan was disclosed in the January newsletter of the Edmonton Elementary Teachers' Association.

The newsletter, signed by T. D. Baker, association secretary, says entrance requirements would be lowered by admitting students to training institutions in the summer sessions before their grade 12 examination papers are marked.

It added that persons would be temporarily licensed after the short course, and that permanent certificates would be granted after they spend one year teaching and then complete a winter session under the University Faculty of Education.

The newsletter suggested that the appointment of Aubrey Earl, superintendent of the Taber School Division, as co-ordinator of teacher training services indicates "perhaps there is to be a change in our system of teacher training."

Officials questioned on the matter said they are not prepared to comment, and that if such a program is to be established the announcement will be made in the legislature.

How "Grumpy's" Store Got Its Name

By T. W. PUE

McLENNAN — If you walk into Grumpy's Store here and address the benign, soft-spoken proprietress behind the counter as "Mrs. Grumpy" she won't take offence. The lady's name is Mrs. M. B. Jones (her husband is one of the Jones boys), and she can tell you the interesting story of how her store became known as "Grumpy's."

It all started when the present

Mrs. E. Houndle (now wife of Rev. Houndle of Beaverlodge), some years ago led a group of United Church girls in enactment of 'Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs' play. Everyone had a part to play, including Mrs. Houndle, but nobody wanted to be Grumpy so she took that part in the play.

And ever since she's been known affectionately as "Grumpy". It was natural, then, when she opened a gift shop in McLennan, that she named it "Grumpys."

When Mrs. Jones took over she continued to operate the store as Grumpy's. And that's how "Grumpy's" Gift Shop in McLennan got its name.

CANADIAN LAW REQUIRES REGISTRATION OF FIREARMS

The laws of Canada require that every person, with the exception of wholesale and retail dealers, must register all revolvers, pistols and fully automatic firearms in his possession.

It is also required that any person, with the above exception, wishing to purchase a revolver or pistol, or to receive it into his possession by gift, loan or any other means, must first obtain the necessary authority to do so from his local Police Department before receiving the firearm.

In accordance with amendments to the Criminal Code of Canada, a new type of Firearms Registration Certificate has been in effect since January 1, 1952.

For the purpose of re-registration on this new type Certificate, registered owners are now requested to forward all copies of Certificates in their possession bearing date of issue prior to 1952 to: The Commissioner, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Ottawa, Ontario. Attention: Identification Branch.

While loading straw with my Dad and brother I heard a loud "bang" at the other side of the rack. The horses jumped ahead and I fell over backwards on the ice. Dad rushed me to the doctor because I had sprained my ankle. Back home I started to play the part of a hero by telling of my experiences. Then my brother deflated all my ego and made me so embarrassed by saying: "You shouldn't have been so scared; didn't you know I was popping my bubble gum?"

They Don't Play "Canadian" Football In Those "Excited" States Of America

By Ken MacCrimmon

NEW YORK—Stukus and Co. are in—Winnipeg lost—Trafton fired—so read the headlines of Canadian papers telling me that another great season of football has drawn to a close. But not down here, as Jim Brooke would say, in the "Excited States".

They have a mild facsimile of our Grey Cup Classic called the "Bowl" games which are about to be run off to determine numerous national champions. These games are being played in warmer clime that are too distant for me to take in. Consequently impressions of American football are limited to one professional game I saw played between the N.Y. Giants and the Philadelphia Eagles here in New York. The terrific elation I felt was not produced by the game but more from my surroundings.

Arriving at the Polo Grounds purely by chance while on a Sunday sightseeing expedition, I decided to try my luck as a reporter. With more than a little trepidation I presented myself at the Press Office and after showing my "Edmonton Sun" press card asked for a pass into the game. To my great relief I was welcomed heartily and ushered into the Press Booth high above the playing field.

Seating myself beside a very pretentious looking gentleman who introduced himself as "Wilber Otua Observer," I continued my role and introduced myself as "Mac Crimmon—Edmonton Sun."

He turned out to be very congenial and during the course of the game pointed out many of the more noteworthy reporters flanking us on either side, among whom was Bill Corum of the Gillette Cavalcade of Sports.

After persuading one of the guards to allow me on the playing field, the second half of the game was spent by alternately sitting on the players' bench and roving around the sidelines with the News Photographers in order to get some better close-up pictures.

A few of the more treasured photos include Kyle Rote, the famous plunging half-back and a rather blurry one of Steve Owen (Frankie Filchak's former mentor) who after coaching the N.Y. Giants for 23 years, was directing his last home game.

A trifling 17,000 people who attended the game were very anti-Giants, displaying huge posters such as "Owen why don't you quit" and cheering every play the Philadelphia team made.

The biggest difference between the American and Canadian game was the four downs versus our three. Allowing for more latitude for poor plays and small gains, it produced many successive downfield marches even by the much weaker Giants who won by having the luck of the Argos (Toronto for the uninitiated).

Calf Vaccination Sets New Record

EDMONTON (BUP) — Alberta Agriculture Minister L. C. Halmrast said that the province went through a record year for calf vaccination against Bang's disease in 1953.

There were a total of 147,483 calves vaccinated, about 15,500 more than in 1952, he said.

Halmrast said that on the basis of the cattle population in Alberta, it is believed about 50 per cent of the heifer calves were vaccinated last year.

"Over a period of a few years this will be a great benefit to the cattlemen of Alberta in reducing illness from this disease," he said.

Twelve municipalities have already been termed brucellosis restricted areas, where every heifer calf is vaccinated, and several more will become restricted areas this year.

Maynard Hints Gov't To Take Drastic Steps For Traffic Safety

EDMONTON (BUP) — Attorney-General Lucien Maynard told a meeting of the Alberta section of the Canadian Bar Association that the Alberta Government will consider using "ghost" cars to control reckless and drunken driving.

"The government is seriously considering making police patrol cars undistinguishable from ordinary vehicles, and sending them out on the highways to nab offending motorists," Maynard said.

The attorney-general cited speeding, drinking and bad driving habits as the major causes of the two hundred deaths in Alberta's 8037 highway accidents last year. He compared the figure with 128 deaths in 836 accidents in 1952.

Maynard said the government is also considering making suspension of driving licenses mandatory for certain offences for which the suspension is now left to the discretion of the magistrate.

LAC LA BICHE — On Thursday, Dec. 1, some 20 bowlers of the WI and Men's Bowling Leagues braved the 40 below temperatures to participate in the bowling tournament held in Bonnyville. One team consisting of four lady bowlers and two teams consisting of eight men participated.

The ladies' tournament provided very keen competition as well as some exceptionally fine bowling, as witnessed by the following scores: Mrs. Frances Charlton of Bonnyville 310 for the high singles score. High singles for Lac la Biche were: Miss D. Proctor 277 and Miss A. Coutney 276. High doubles were: Miss D. Proctor and Miss A. Coutney 512.
